Saffron

Almost 90% of the saffron in the world is produced in Iran: many of them, distributed with the label of other countries, always come from Iranian soil. Saffron and Iran are uniquely connected and is known worldwide for its incomparable quality, fragrance, pleasant taste and the extraordinary red hue that distinguishes it. It is widely used in the food, beverage, cosmetic and perfume industries. As soon as you open one of our saffron packages, you will experience an incredible natural red color that is accompanied by the pleasant scent of this magical spice, which strongly demonstrates, together with the certificates, that our saffron has no artificial components and is 100% natural.
